

1. Exploring the gospel of Mark

Have you ever wanted to take a closer look at the gospel? In this this 4-week course we shall explore what most scholars consider the first gospel ever written: the good news about Jesus as compiled by Mark and preached by Peter. Come, discover what new treasures the gospel tells us about the person of Jesus in the gospel of Mark.

2. The book of Job: Trusting God in the storm

The book of Job narrates the story of an upright man overwhelmed by troubles. He is stripped of his wealth, family, and health. Job's suffering leads to a heated debate between Job and his friends as to why Job was suffering. Isn't he righteous? Why would God allow it? Job accuses God of being unjust and calls on God to explain Himself. Eventually, God addresses Job. Though God's speeches do not provide a comprehensive explanation on human suffering, Job responds with contrite submission. He learns to praise God regardless of his circumstance.

At the end of the course, learners will be able to

- Outline the basic structure of the book of Job
- Summarize the distinctive standpoints of Job and his friends
- Cite the purpose of God's speeches
- Explain the overall message and its relevance for believers today
